Mikumi -Uluguru Mountains and Masai Village – learn about the most important treasures of Tanzania - the people and their traditions, animals and their behavior and nature with its beauty.

Mikumi National Park- a beautiful landscape of baobabs, black hardwood trees, and grassy plains. With almost Guaranteed almost year-round wildlife sightings and it's an ideal safari destination for those without much time. Here you find buffaloes, wildebeest, giraffes, elephants, lions, zebras, leopards, crocodiles and endangered wild dogs, and the chances are high that you'll see a respectable sampling of all of them within a game drive in the park.

The Uluguru Mountains rise up majestically from the plains just south of Morogoro, dominating vistas from town. Part of the Eastern Arc chain, the mountains are home to a wealth of birds, insects, and plants, these include many unique species, such as the Uluguru bush shrike. Hiking is the best way to explore and to get acquainted with the life of the local Luguru.

The Maasai are a colorful tribe found in Tanzania whose nomadic traditional lifestyle has lasted for centuries. Their traditional industry is cattle rearing and their herdsman are extremely skilled. Stay overnight in the Maasai village and join in their day-to-day activities.
